

Co-chairs' Statement Annex: Fundraising

Supporting the Future of Syria and the Region - Brussels III Conference
Brussels, 14 March 2019

Table 1

Funding confirmed by the international community for the Syria Crisis response

Funding for 2019	Funding for 2020 and beyond	Loans for 2019 and beyond
EUR 6.16 billion	EUR 2.09 billion	EUR 18.47 billion
USD 7.00 billion	USD 2.38 billion	USD 20.72 billion

The international community confirmed EUR 6.16 billion / USD 7.00 billion¹ in funding to support humanitarian, resilience and development activities in 2019 for the Syria crisis response, which includes pledges towards the Syria Humanitarian Response Plan (HRP), the Regional Refugee and Resilience Plan (3RP), and the ICRC Syria crisis appeals. This funding also includes support for UNRWA requirements for Palestine refugees in Syria outside the HRP and 3RP, multi-donor mechanisms, as well as other funding for 2019. It will help to meet the immediate and basic needs of those affected by the humanitarian crisis in Syria, including supporting resilience efforts as well as supporting host countries to address the impact of the protracted crisis. These efforts will aim to secure quality education for all children and livelihood opportunities for refugees and affected communities, as well as promote basic public services and economic growth for the benefit of all (see table 1).

The international community confirmed EUR 2.09 billion / USD 2.38 billion¹ in funding for humanitarian, resilience and development activities in 2020 and beyond for the Syria crisis response. This multi-year commitment by the international community to Syria and neighbouring countries is important in demonstrating a clear commitment to continued support for those most affected by the Syrian crisis and ensuring humanitarian and development agencies are able to plan ahead.

¹ This includes pledges reconfirmed from the London conference (February 2016), the Brussels I 'Supporting the future of Syria and the Region' conference of April 2017 and the Brussels II "Supporting the future of Syria and the Region' conference of April 2018'

In addition to grants, multilateral development banks (MDBs), and bilateral donors pledged up to EUR 18.47 billion / USD 20.72 billion of loans (see table 3). The terms of these loans are yet to be agreed. We urge a substantial part of these loans to be made on concessional terms either on IDA-equivalent terms or consistent with the revised OECD DAC principles agreed on 16 December 2014. We welcome this commitment to the region and will support MDBs' efforts to develop new ways of responding to protracted crises through increased access to sustainable lending.

The co-chairs will work in coordination with the refugee-hosting governments, humanitarian and development agencies, and multilateral development banks to ensure that these financial pledges are honoured promptly so that vulnerable Syrians and host communities receive the assistance needed.

Conversion rates are based on UN operational rates of exchange as of 1st March 2019.

³ Predicted potential investments for the period 2017-2019 for the entire affected region as set out in the indicative three-year Strategy Implementation Plan (2017-2019) agreed by EBRD's shareholders.
