During the months of March and April 07, Afghanistan faced a number of natural disasters like floods due to heavy rains and snow-melting, avalanches, land slides and earthquake, which severely affected 3,019 families and caused severe damages to infrastructure, houses and public service centres.