Background

The magnitude 9.0 earthquake that struck the area off the western coast of northern Sumatra on Sunday morning, 26 December 2004, at 7:59 am local time (00:59 GMT) triggered massive waves, or tsunamis, that inundated coastal areas in countries all around the Indian Ocean rim – from Indonesia to Somalia. Sri Lanka, the Indonesian province of Aceh, four states of southern India, the Maldives, and coastal areas of Thailand, Malaysia, and Myanmar were the most severely affected. The earthquake epicentre was located at 3.30N, 95.78E at a depth of 10 kilometres. The area is historically prone to seismic upheaval due to its location on the margins of tectonic plates. However, waves of this magnitude are rare and therefore the level of preparedness was very low.

Summary of the human toll caused by the tsunami as of 28 April

* The International Federation relies on official government sources for update of the casualty figures in this table, and does not bear responsibility for accuracy. Those listed as missing will be officially declared as dead in most countries a year after the disaster. Note: East Africa covers tsunami-affected countries of Kenya, Madagascar, Seychelles, Somalia and Tanzania.

Thousands of staff, relief and medical personnel, and volunteers of the Red Cross and Red Crescent societies of the tsunami-affected countries have provided a vital initial response, in search and rescue, clean-up, providing temporary shelter and immediate relief assistance, emergency medical services, psychological first aid and tracing. It is estimated that over 22,000 Red Cross and Red Crescent volunteers and 76 relief and medical teams were mobilized in the disaster-affected areas.

The Federation immediately launched a Preliminary Emergency Appeal on the day of the disaster with a focus on Sri Lanka, Indonesia and the Maldives. On 3 January 2005, the ICRC launched budget extensions additional to its 2005 Emergency Appeal for Indonesia and Sri Lanka. Along with initial support from the country and regional delegations, the Federation deployed within 24-72 hours three Field Assessment and Coordination Teams \(FACT\) and 18 Emergency Response Units \(ERU\) in the sectors of water and sanitation, health care, aid distribution, telecommunications, and logistics/transportation to Sri Lanka, Indonesia and the Maldives.

Somalia

Overview

The Special Representative of the Secretary General of the Federation for the tsunami operation, Johan Schaar, visited Puntland in April. He was accompanied by the president of the Somali Red Crescent¹ and the heads of the Federation's regional and Somalia delegations and the Nairobi-based regional information delegate as well as the ICRC cooperation delegate for Somalia.

A coordination meeting with the newly created Humanitarian Affairs and Disaster Management agency of Puntland was organized with the participation of the UN Office for the Coordination of Humanitarian Affairs (OCHA) and UNDP resident representatives. The role of the Somali Red Crescent in the tsunami response as well as in the overall health structure of the region was emphasized by all participants.

During the meeting Somali authorities requested the Federation's assistance in the design and development of a comprehensive disaster management plan for Puntland. The demand was again issued by Puntland's vice president during an official meeting with the Somali Red Crescent/Federation/ICRC team. The Federation accepted the demand and already identified an experienced delegate for the task.

The special representative met with volunteers from Garowe, Galkayo and Bossasso, all of whom were involved in the tsunami response operation. The youth, most of them in their early twenties, narrated passionately the events they were involved in. They recalled with precision the psychological shock of the affected populations in Hafun, Eyl or Gara'ad, the unprecedented scale of destruction to these cities and adjacent communities and their first encounter with death.

Somali Red Crescent volunteers talk about their experience during the tsunami emergency.

They spoke of their initiative of recruiting and training volunteers in the tsunami-affected areas as they prepared to return to their own bases.

The volunteers acknowledged awareness about the areas that still need improvement. All praised the disaster preparedness training they received only weeks before the disaster struck.

The meeting was concluded with thanks and praise to the volunteers for their work and their unabated motivation. "It is because of volunteers like you and your colleagues in Indonesia or Sri Lanka that we can tell the world we were there", the youth were told.

The team visited the Garowe hospital which is lifeline for the 650,000 people living in and around the city. The hospital opened in 1991, during the civil war, and a year later started receiving support from the ICRC. Since 1992, the Federation and various national societies including the Italian Red Cross are among the main supporters of the hospital.

The team also visited the Kalabayr clinic in Garowe as well as the Harfo clinic of the Galkayo branch. It learned about their links with local communities as well as cooperation with other humanitarian organizations and the UN.

The tsunami struck the north-eastern coastline of Somalia on 26 December and left behind nearly 300 dead or missing people. Staff and volunteers from the Somali Red Crescent Society (SRCS) were the first to provide emergency response in many of the most affected areas in Bari, Nugal and Mudug regions. Trained volunteers were mobilized both from the inland and coastal districts. The initial work of health staff and volunteers from the Red Crescent's clinics and branches were instrumental both in the disaster health and sanitation response and in assessments.

Partnerships with other operational organizations was essential during this phase, and Red Crescent staff worked closely with UNICEF and WHO in particular (both longstanding partners for the SRCS integrated health care programme) to coordinate and complement relief efforts.

Movement coordination was very well conducted, with daily meetings between the Somali Red Crescent, Federation and ICRC and regular updates to interested PNS. The Federation participated in the OCHA coordination forum in Nairobi, and SRCS in the field level coordination in Garowe.

Red Cross and Red Crescent Action

Objective 1 (health): The health conditions among the most affected people in Somali coastal regions of Alula, Iskushuban (Hafun), Bender Beila, Eyl and Jariban have improved and the outbreak of epidemics and waterborne diseases prevented.

With the lifesaving and emergency phase now completed the structure of the emergency teams has transformed into a more standard Red Crescent volunteer approach. Newly recruited and trained teams of volunteers are in place amongst the communities themselves. The focus has shifted onto enhancing and expanding the core areas in which the society has developed as a leader in providing services to vulnerable communities in those areas – principally through provision of primary health care and health and hygiene-promoting activities.

Outreach services to remote tsunami-hit communities from the mother and child/outpatient department (MCH/OPD) clinics are being expanded. Water and sanitation community awareness and training activities that complement the hardware inputs of other actors will be developed. The water and sanitation facilities of the Red Crescent clinics themselves will be upgraded to make them an example for sound practices within their catchment populations. The primary health facilities in Bari region, which the Red Crescent had left to other actors and public authorities, have deteriorated over time. The national society is now in a position to expand its services to that region in agreement and coordination of the health ministry and other partners active within the Somali Aid Coordination Body (SACB).

Outreach activities continue in the coastal affected areas of Badey under Eyl district (Nugal region) and Gara'ad and Kulub in Jeriban district (Mudug region). Following the tsunami, the only operational health facilities of the Red Crescent recorded increased cases of eye, skin and respiratory infections. The increase in cases is attributed to the contaminated water sources and climatic changes. Therefore, in addition to the routine clinic activities, a total of 718 patients were treated through outreach activities between January and March.

A significant impact of the Somali Red Crescent's work has been to prevent any major disease outbreaks occurring in any of the worst hit areas. The combination of promotional and curative health work, coupled with sanitation activities, allowed the communities to start to piece their lives together without the added burden of coping with widespread disease outbreak.

Objective 2 (capacity building): The disaster response capacity of national societies in the East Africa region is strengthened.

In December, the Federation trained a number of Somalia Red Crescent branch staff in contingency planning and vulnerability and capacity assessment (VCA). Trainees included key staff and volunteers from the Garowe and Galkayo branches who were able to put these skills into action during the assessment and initial response. Future disaster preparedness activities will all include VCA and contingency planning exercises to be carried out across the country. By the end of the year, with Federation technical and financial support at both country and regional level, a national VCA and disaster management strategy and plan will lead to community based risk reduction activities and other disaster preparedness and response mechanisms such as early warning systems, disaster preparedness stocks access and active national as well as branch disaster response teams.

The volunteer mobilization was assisted by the recently established Red Crescent sub-branches. In Bari region, for example, all districts now have active volunteers. An increasing number of them are trained in first aid and basic disaster management. During the emergency phase, volunteers were supported with protective gloves and materials provided through the Federation. The Federation will assist the national society to fully operationalize their relatively new volunteer management guidelines, support a full branch development review, and participate in the development of a national strategy in the second quarter of 2005.

The Federation supports the process of recruiting a national disaster management coordinator and additional branch health officers in Puntland. The Federation's regional IT team also began to upgrade the communications infrastructure in the Somali Red Crescent branches of Garowe, Galkayo and Bosaso which were at the forefront of the response. In March, a subsequent follow up IT mission installed radios in all the branch outreach and monitoring vehicles, and upgraded or purchased computers in Garowe and Bossasso branches.

Seychelles

Overview

The Special Representative met with a group of volunteers of the Seychelles Red Cross² who were involved in the tsunami response operation. The volunteers recounted the moments of panic when the disaster hit the islands, describing scenes of life rescue as well as shocking situations when they found sharks swimming in the post office of Victoria, the capital city. Volunteers also explained the misconception of the general public that the Seychelles is a country inhabited by rich people living in dream-like surroundings. The ensuing field trip revealed that indeed, like many of the Asian countries hit by the tsunami, the Seychelles have an impressively beautiful environment. However, life on the 115 islands of the archipelago is in many ways similar to that of people living elsewhere in the world. The encounter with disaster victims highlighted the difficulties faced by inhabitants in rebuilding their lives.

At the same time, it brought up the Seychelles Red Cross as the most appreciated organization in the country. Every family visited had words of praise for the work of the volunteers. It is worth noting that more than the material assistance, the beneficiaries appreciated the volunteers' capacity to listen, to sympathize and even get involved into helping them solve administrative procedures. Many admitted that they gave a hard time to the volunteers when they were advised to leave their properties for higher grounds.

A meeting between the country's vice-president and the Federation's Special Representative as well as head of regional delegation concluded with an agreement that the Federation would support the design and development of a comprehensive national disaster preparedness and response plan in which the Seychelles Red Cross will have a significant role. The same experienced delegate who will assist with a similar task in Puntland, Somalia will extend his services to Seychelles as well.

Finally a coordination meeting was organized by the national society during which it presented its plans to strengthen the organization. The Federation's representative updated the participants on the organization's developments regarding its global and regional tsunami response.

The 26 December 2004 tsunami was followed by days of torrential rain which resulted in massive flooding and land slides. In Seychelles, the Red Cross is the only humanitarian actor working alongside the government in responding to the needs of those affected by natural disasters. Volunteers distributed food as well as clothing, kitchen sets, mattresses, bed sheets, pillow, radio set and electrical appliances. To some extent, they have provided psychological support, although many were not trained in this area which has now become a priority.

Red Cross and Red Crescent Action

Objective 1 (immediate livelihood restoration): Essential livelihood rehabilitation activities supported for selected families in the Seychelles.

The Seychelles Red Cross is the only humanitarian organization assisting the authorities in responding to the needs of the most vulnerable; they have been able to respond using available resources and assistance provided by the local community.

Severe weather events have been on the increase in the Seychelles in recent years and the cyclone season is likely to bring further severe storms, landslides and flooding. The national society needs to assess and plan its disaster preparedness programme, conduct further disaster management training and pre position relief items.

Objective 2 (capacity building): The disaster response capacity of national societies in the Eastern Africa region is strengthened.

During the reporting period, the German Red Cross, Spanish Red Cross and French Red Cross – the latter through PIROI – visited the Seychelles and provided or pledged support to capacity building efforts encouraged by the Federation.

Branch development in particular is a priority area. A letter of intent was signed with the German Red Cross. A bilateral cooperation project has been drafted with the Spanish Red Cross. The PIROI/French Red Cross assisted the Seychelles Red Cross with VHF radio communication equipment and, earlier in the year, provided training to more than 30 volunteers in radio communication.

The Comoros Red Crescent / PIROI provided safe water for thousands of Comorians following the Khartala volcano emergency.

The German Red Cross airlifted relief materials and medical supplies worth EUR 280,000. Medical supplies were used to replenish stocks used during the emergency by the ministry of health. The consignment consisted of sodium chloride, dextrose, ringers lactate gelofusine, intravenous PVC bags and intravenous butterflies. Other equipment including stretchers and neck collar splits will be positioned in 23 districts as part of a contingency stock built up with the Federation's support.

Likewise, part of the disaster response equipment will be pre-positioned at district level on the three islands of Mahé, Praslin and La Digue. Due to the current lack of physical space these will be placed under the authority of the district administrator but will be used by Red Cross volunteers in times of disaster.

The national society also received two four-wheel drive pick-up vehicles which are already making a difference with regard to logistics management.

Preparations for a VCA exercise and disaster management and psycho-social support training are ongoing.

Africa Region

The regional delegation in Nairobi organized the Special Representative's visit to Somalia and Seychelles. The two national societies, with support from the Federation's head of Somalia delegation and the head of Indian Ocean sub-regional office, were instrumental in preparing the field visits in their respective countries.

High-level meetings with the vice president of Puntland and the vice president of Seychelles resulted in a request from the two officials for Federation support in the development of comprehensive disaster preparedness and response plans for their two countries. An experienced delegate was already identified and is expected to join the regional delegation shortly. The encounters with volunteers and beneficiaries also provided valuable feedback on emergency phase events from the field perspective.

After a two-month initial assignment with the regional delegation the secretary general of the Ethiopian Red Cross was reconfirmed as Regional Movement Coordinator. With many national societies having expressed their intention or signing letters of intent for bilateral cooperation this function is much needed and will benefit from the wealth of experience of the Ethiopian Red Cross delegate. The recruitment of a francophone disaster management delegate has been re-launched after the preferred candidate renounced the job.

While focusing on the need for accelerating the development and implementation of such disaster management measures that will benefit the population living in high risk areas in the eastern African region, the regional delegation remains determined to continue to assist and advocate the general and often forgotten vulnerabilities that are overshadowed by disasters that make the headlines.

Red Cross and Red Crescent Action

Objective 1 (capacity building): The disaster response capacity of national societies in the Eastern Africa region is strengthened.

During the reporting period the region has experienced a series of disasters which mobilized concerned national societies and Federation resources. These highlight once more the need for a coordinated regional disaster preparedness and response action as outlined in the Nairobi Initiative and the East Africa plan of action.

Flash foods have affected the Tanzanian island of Zanzibar where the national society and the Federation dispatched an emergency team. Somalia and Ethiopia were affected by floods from the river Shabelle. Comoros experienced scenes of panic as 10,000 residents fled to safety from a threatening Khartala volcano.

In Somalia, on 24 April heavy rains in Hargeisa and its surroundings left at least five people dead and another twenty injured, according to official reports by the Somaliland government. Latest reports suggest the number killed may have risen to ten people.

The Somali Red Crescent, with the assistance of the Federation's regional delegation in Nairobi, has just completed a vulnerability and capacity assessment and contingency planning training exercise in Hargeisa that proved useful for this response.

Floods in Hargeisa destroyed hundreds of houses and basic infrastructure.

In Ethiopia, the Wabe Shabelle River flooded over its banks, washing away about 35 villages in the country's Somali region.

Flooding affected the zone of Gode, including West and East Imi. Over 40 people died in the disaster and many others remain missing. The emergency response was hindered as roads leading to the area were under water and impassable. Many people lost both their houses and their crops in the flood, increasing food insecurity and economic hardship in a region suffering from prolonged drought conditions. Areas of the Somali region continue to remain at risk due to the rising river level. The national society is working closely with the ICRC which is the lead agency of the Red Cross and Red Crescent Movement in the affected area.

A week earlier, on 16 April, an alert was given by the observatory of the Karthala volcano which noted abnormal seismic activity. The consequent outflow of fumes and projections of sand and ashes lasted more than 24 hours and resulted in the spontaneous displacement of some 10,000 thousand panicked people. The PIROI dispatched by air a water engineer and 600 kilograms of materials including water bladders with a capacity of 10,000 and 15,000 litres, motor-driven pumps, kits of water analysis and tarpaulins. The French Red Cross' delegate is currently working with 25 Comoros Red Crescent volunteers in cleaning water tanks and refilling them with clean water.

The Somalia delegation and the disaster management department are coordinating responses with other agencies and planning preparedness measures for future flooding. An alert was posted on the Federation's disaster management information system (DMIS). Similarly, the regional delegation in Nairobi is in regular communication with the Comoros Red Crescent, the PIROI and other humanitarian organizations and has offered personnel and financial resources if required. DMIS alerts were posted. The Federation's head of Indian Ocean sub-regional office will visit Comoros to review the situation on 29 April.

Objective 2 (advocacy): The humanitarian needs of the disaster affected and the work of the national societies are advocated for.

The main focus during the reporting period was the visit of the Special Representative to the East Africa region. A series of articles are prepared and ready for publication. Support was given to the regional delegation for the production of information bulletins covering the emergencies highlighted above.

Exchanges took place with a newly recruited information officer in the Seychelles. Plans are ongoing for modifying and strengthening the structure of the information unit which will incorporate reporting and external relations functions.

Work continues for the preparation of a regional communications forum focusing on the lessons learned from the tsunami operations. The meeting is scheduled to take place in Addis Ababa and is seen as an opportunity to establish technical working contacts with the communicators of the African Union.

The experience of the three national society information officers – Rwandan, Ugandan and Tanzanian Red Cross staff- who were seconded to the regional delegation during the past three month will be another focus of the Federation's communicators meeting.
