

SYRIA

1 MILLION REFUGEES

The conflict in Syria has reached a grim milestone: 1 million people have become refugees – half of them children.

UNHCR is coordinating relief efforts and bringing aid to those in need.

The severe impact on nearby countries could threaten regional stability as the exodus accelerates.

Safe passage within Syria, open borders at its edges and more funding are vital. Of the US$1 billion needed through June, only 25 per cent has been received.

