Context

The Wau Protection of Civilians Area Adjacent (PoCAA) was established in June 2016, following violence and around Wau town, making it the most recently established PoC in South Sudan. In April 2017, an outbreak of violence resulted in a major influx, at which point IOM conducted an exercise to biometrically register IDPs for food assistance, which recorded the population at 39,165. As of May 2019 headcount, the total population is now 19,132.
