

Venezuela Regional Crisis – Complex Emergency

SEPTEMBER 24, 2021

SITUATION AT A GLANCE

- On September 22, the USG announced more than $336 million in humanitarian and development funding for the response to the Venezuela regional crisis.
- Governments of Colombia and Peru continue efforts to formalize legal status of Venezuelan migrants.
- WFP launches first phase of school feeding program in Venezuela’s Falcón State.
- Venezuela received nearly 700,000 COVID-19 vaccine doses in early September, the first delivery of vaccines to the country through the global COVAX initiative.

KEY DEVELOPMENTS

USG Announces $336 Million in Humanitarian and Development Funding for the Venezuela Regional Crisis

At a Government-of-Colombia (GoC)-hosted United Nations General Assembly side event on September 22, Senior Advisor for Special Political Affairs at the U.S. Mission to the United Nations Ambassador Jeffrey DeLaurentis announced nearly $247 million in additional U.S. Government (USG) humanitarian funding to respond to the Venezuela regional crisis, including for humanitarian assistance inside Venezuela. Ambassador DeLaurentis also announced more than $89 million in development funding—aimed at improving the economic integration of and quality of public services available to Venezuelan migrants in Latin America and the Caribbean (LAC) and promoting democratic rights in Venezuela—from USAID’s Bureau for Latin America and the Caribbean and the Inter-American Foundation. The newly announced humanitarian funding—comprising approximately $120 million from State/PRM and nearly $127 million from USAID/BHA—will enable non-governmental organizations (NGOs) and UN agencies to continue providing humanitarian assistance to vulnerable populations across the region. The funding builds on ongoing programs for Venezuelans and host communities throughout the region, and supports the provision of emergency food assistance, including food kits, vouchers, and direct cash transfers to purchase food in local markets; education; health; logistics and coordination; nutrition; protection; shelter; and water, sanitation, and hygiene (WASH) assistance. Since 2017, the USG has provided more than $1.9 billion in humanitarian, economic, development, and health assistance for the response to the Venezuela regional crisis.

Governments of Colombia and Peru Continue Migrant Regularization Efforts

During the week of July 4, the Government of Peru (GoP) completed the final regulatory actions necessary to enable more than 350,000 irregular migrants to gain Temporary Protected Status (TPS) and approximately 450,000 Venezuelan asylum-seekers to apply for temporary residency, which would allow migrants the right to work and provide them with access to GoP public health services. With support from State/PRM, the Office of the UN High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR) and the International Organization for Migration (IOM) intend to provide a combined total of $4 million to the GoP to support its efforts to document irregular migrants and Venezuelan asylum-seekers. Separately, the GoC continues its efforts to formalize the legal status of Venezuelans residing in Colombia via its TPS registration process, which launched in early May. As of September 21, more than 1.2 million Venezuelans had completed the first phase of the registration process, and the GoC aims to deliver identification documents to Venezuelans who have completed registration in the coming weeks, granting migrants formal access to education, health care, and employment opportunities in the country. Meanwhile, on August 24, the GoC’s Ministry of Health and Social Protection enacted a temporary measure allowing all Venezuelans residing in Colombia—regardless of legal status—access to COVID-19 vaccination services in an effort to mitigate the spread of the virus.

WFP Launches Food Assistance Activities in Venezuela’s Falcón State

The UN World Food Program (WFP) launched the first phase of its school feeding pilot program in Venezuela on July 6, distributing monthly food kits to children ages six years and younger and school staff at 277 pre-primary schools across 25 municipalities in Falcón State. As of September 17, WFP had provided food assistance to 33,000 children under the program. In the first phase of the program, the UN agency aims to provide food assistance to nearly 185,000 children by the end of 2021, gradually expanding its assistance operations thereafter to reach approximately 1.5 million children throughout the country by June 2023. The food distributions represent the first time WFP has been able to provide critically needed food assistance inside Venezuela following years of advocacy with the regime of Venezuela's Nicolás Maduro. In April, WFP signed a memorandum of understanding with the Maduro regime that allowed the UN agency to establish humanitarian operations in the country. During a September 16–17 visit to Venezuela, WFP Executive Director (ED) David Beasley held separate meetings in Venezuela's capital city of Caracas with Maduro, Interim President of Venezuela Juan Guaidó, and a delegation from the European Union to discuss plans for expanding WFP programming in the country; ED Beasley also travelled to Falcón to observe WFP food distribution activities.

Venezuela Receives First Shipment of COVID-19 Vaccines Through COVAX

On September 7, Venezuela received a shipment of 693,600 doses of China's Sinovac COVID-19 vaccine, marking the first delivery of vaccines to the country through the global COVID-19 Vaccines Global Access (COVAX) initiative, according to the Pan American Health Organization (PAHO). In total, Venezuela will receive more than 12 million COVID-19 vaccine doses through the COVAX mechanism—enough to fully immunize approximately 20 percent of the Venezuelan population—over the coming months. In recent weeks, representatives from PAHO, the UN Children's Fund (UNICEF), and other relief organizations have coordinated with health officials from the Maduro regime on technical aspects of the vaccine distribution process—including training health workers to administer vaccines, strengthening vaccine information and communication campaigns, and assisting the identification of populations prioritized to receive the vaccines. The delivery of vaccines follows months of delays due to ongoing negotiations between COVAX and the Maduro regime over payment to the mechanism, global COVAX supply constraints, and logistical issues such as the development of sufficient cold chain infrastructure inside Venezuela. As of mid-September, Venezuela had the lowest vaccination rate in the region, with roughly 15 percent of the country's population—or 4.2 million people—fully vaccinated against the disease, according to the UN World Health Organization (WHO).

U.S. GOVERNMENT RESPONSE

FOOD SECURITY

USAID/BHA assistance in FY 2021 aims to address acute food insecurity among migrants, refugees, and host community members residing in Brazil, Colombia, Ecuador, and Peru, as well as vulnerable Venezuelans inside Venezuela. USAID/BHA-funded emergency food assistance—implemented through NGOs such as the Adventist Development and Relief Agency (ADRA) in Brazil and Solidarités International in Colombia, as well as WFP in Colombia, Ecuador, and Peru—includes locally procured in-kind food assistance, hot meals, cash transfers for food, food vouchers, and complementary nutrition and WASH support. In Venezuela, USAID/BHA is funding NGO and UN partners to provide hot meals and in-kind food assistance. In total, these programs aim to reach nearly 630,000 people in Brazil, Colombia, Ecuador, and Peru and more than 90,000 people in Venezuela using FY 2021 funds. USAID/BHA also contributes to coordination and capacity-building activities for food security actors that aim to improve the quality of humanitarian programming for the Venezuela regional crisis.

HEALTH

In FY 2021, USAID/BHA is providing more than $28 million to NGO and UN partners in Colombia and Venezuela to provide life-saving health care services to vulnerable Venezuelans and host community members. USAID/BHA funding enables partners to distribute medical supplies, support service provision at health facilities, and train community health workers to address urgent health needs. With FY 2021 funding, USAID/BHA partners aim to provide nearly 674,000 people across the two countries with improved access to health care services. Additionally, State/PRM partners—including International Federation of Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies (IFRC), UNHCR, and Jesuit Refugee Service (JRS)—support essential health interventions for Venezuelans residing in 17 countries, including Brazil, Colombia, Ecuador, and Peru.

349,000

People supported with USAID/BHA-funded WASH activities in Venezuela in FY 2021

WASH

In FY 2021, USAID/BHA and State/PRM are supporting WASH programming to address the needs of vulnerable Venezuelans and to prevent the spread of COVID-19 and other communicable diseases. State/PRM partners implement WASH activities that assist Venezuelans residing outside Venezuela, including WASH measures to mitigate the risk of COVID-19 infection. With FY 2021 funding, State/PRM is supporting UNICEF to reach nearly 960,000 beneficiaries across Brazil, Colombia, and Ecuador. In addition, USAID/BHA is providing nearly $32 million in FY 2021 funding to several relief agencies to implement critical WASH activities inside Venezuela, which include providing personal protective equipment and training local health care workers to respond to cases of COVID-19 in Venezuela, conducting hygiene awareness sessions, rehabilitating WASH infrastructure in schools, hospitals, and vulnerable communities, and installing handwashing stations at community kitchens.

$58.4 Million

In USAID/BHA FY 2021 MPCA funding in Colombia

ECONOMIC RECOVERY AND CASH ASSISTANCE

With more than $58 million in FY 2021 funding for multipurpose cash assistance (MPCA), USAID/BHA partners are distributing cash assistance to vulnerable households in Colombia through prepaid debit cards and cash transfers. MPCA transfers enable recipients to individually prioritize needs such as food, health care, essential household items, school supplies, and shelter, as well as provide a means to pursue income-generating opportunities.

State/PRM partners in Brazil, Colombia, Ecuador, and Peru support economic recovery by strengthening livelihood opportunities and socioeconomic integration among vulnerable Venezuelans, providing training and resources to enable the adoption of sustainable entrepreneurship and employment strategies. State/PRM partners provide Venezuelans with registration and technical assistance for work permits; employment and vocational training; language training; technical skills certifications; business development training; and the provision of seed capital and cash assistance via bank transfers, prepaid cards, and mobile money platforms.

PROTECTION

State/PRM and USAID/BHA support 31 partners to address protection concerns among nearly 1.3 million vulnerable Venezuelans in Venezuela and across the region, particularly along the Colombia–Venezuela border. State/PRM-supported protection activities aim to increase access to and support the provision of protection services, including gender-based violence prevention and case management, child-friendly spaces, community-based mental health and psychosocial support, and legal assistance. State/PRM partners also work with the broader humanitarian community across the region to support advocacy efforts with local and national authorities and promote the delivery of protection services in areas with significant humanitarian access constraints.

CONTEXT IN BRIEF

- Deteriorating economic and political conditions—characterized by hyperinflation—in the Bolivarian Republic of Venezuela have decreased households’ access to food, medicine, and livelihoods; contributed to increasing humanitarian needs; and triggered an influx of Venezuelans into countries across LAC, primarily to Brazil, Chile, Colombia, Ecuador, and Peru. By September 2021, nearly 5.7 million Venezuelans were living outside of Venezuela, according to the Regional Interagency Coordination Platform for Refugees from Venezuela (R4V), led by IOM and UNHCR.
- The population influx continues to strain available services, especially in border areas of Brazil, Colombia, Ecuador, and Peru. Recent assessments indicate that food, health care, and WASH support are among the most urgent humanitarian needs among vulnerable populations, including Venezuelans, Colombian returnees from Venezuela, and host communities in border regions. The outflow of people from Venezuela also contributes to increased public health concerns throughout the region, particularly with regard to overburdened health care systems.
- On April 16, 2018, USAID activated the Venezuela Regional Crisis Response Management Team in Washington, D.C., to coordinate USG regional humanitarian efforts. On June 7, 2018, USAID activated the Venezuela Regional Crisis Disaster Assistance Response Team (DART) to support delivery of life-saving assistance across the region.
- In addition to supporting ongoing regional response activities, USAID/BHA and State/PRM staff members based throughout the region and in Washington, D.C. are monitoring the humanitarian situation in close coordination with relevant host governments, donor governments, NGOs, and UN counterparts.

PUBLIC DONATION INFORMATION

- The most effective way people can assist relief efforts is by making cash contributions to humanitarian organizations that are conducting relief operations. A list of humanitarian organizations that are accepting cash donations for disaster responses around the world can be found at interaction.org.
- USAID encourages cash donations because they allow aid professionals to procure the exact items needed (often in the affected region); reduce the burden on scarce resources (such as transportation routes, staff time, and warehouse space); can be transferred very quickly and without transportation costs; support the economy of the disaster-stricken region; and ensure culturally, dietarily, and environmentally appropriate assistance.
- More information can be found at:
  - USAID Center for International Disaster Information: cidi.org
  - Information on relief activities of the humanitarian community can be found at reliefweb.int.
