

The crisis at a glance

- US $2 billion will be needed to address the situation in the Horn of Africa. Some $1 billion has been received. UN Secretary-General Ban Ki-Moon today called on donor countries to come up with the additional $1 billion needed to meet expected needs.
- 11.6 million people are in need of urgent humanitarian assistance in the Horn of Africa.
- Refugee influxes from Somalia into Kenya and Ethiopia continue, with approximately 3,500 people arriving each day.
- WFP is considering food drops to parts of Somalia where the agency is as yet unable to access affected communities. WFP says "There are 2.2 million people yet to be reached...it is not about politics, it's about saving lives."

Response

Somalia:

- WFP has reached 1.5 million people in Somalia and is endeavouring to reach a further 2.2 million in areas of the south that have been inaccessible. New feeding sites will be open in and around Dolo by the end of the week.
- UNICEF has sent nearly 900 MT of therapeutic and supplementary feeding supplies to help around 38,500 malnourished children in southern Somalia.
- UNHCR is distributing aid packages to some 189,000 people in southern Somalia, and is working with the authorities and other partners to register Somali refugees in Kenya and Ethiopia.

Kenya:

- UNICEF and CARE are installing strategic water points along the 100 km route between the border with Somalia and Dadaab.
- On Monday UNHCR started moving 1,200 refugees in Dadaab to a new site from the overflow areas currently accommodating some 60,000 people. This is a new tented site, not the Ifo II facility.

Ethiopia:

- More than 112,000 refugees from Somalia are currently in Ethiopia's Dollo Ado area. As the three existing refugee camps of Bokolomanyo, Melkadida and Kobe are at or over maximum capacity, a fourth camp at Hilowen is being prepared. Food is being provided in all sites.
