

H2H Network

Services for humanitarian responders - Ebola response in DRC

The H2H Network consists of independent service providers who provide expert services for responders in and during an emergency. The services are intended to be accessible to all across the response. In DRC, many

Who	What ?	Contact them if you want:	Watch for...	Contact
Humanitarian OpenStreetMap Team*	Electronic medical records system for Ebola treatment centres	More information on the pilot in Bunia or to trial the EMR system.	Updates on the pilot via https://projectbuendia.org/ and https://forge.duke.edu/blog-posts-eric-perakslis-phd	ivan.gayton@hotosm.org
	Comprehensive base maps in North Kivu and Ituri provinces	Data on roads, buildings, health facilities, village names, or help sharing or sourcing other base geographic data. Offline maps for routing/navigation.	Daily map updates via HDX: https://data.humdata.org/group/cod Or create your own exports at https://export.hotosm.org	paul.uthol@hotosm.org
Insecurity Insight*	Analysis and operational security information on attacks on healthcare centres and workers in the DRC via regular email alerts	To receive a) email alerts on events of threats or violence against healthcare providers, or b) read a series of practical recommendations on how to mitigate risks, or c) be told when a summary analysis document is out. (Click on the link to sign up)	Two-three email updates per week. http://insecurityinsight.org/projects/healthcare/attacks-on-ebola-response	christina.wille@insecurityinsight.org
	Monthly security news briefs on attacks on aid, healthcare, education, IDP or sexual violence in the aid workplace	To find out about other free products shared via email	Monthly updates on attacks on aid, health, education or protection http://insecurityinsight.org/about-us/mailling-lists	Helen.Buck@insecurityinsight.org
Internews*	Collection and response to rumours. concerns and other community issues through channels trusted by the community	To connect with local media (radio) - community data/rumours/misinformation General communication with communities support	Humanitarian feedback bulletins (soon) - local news bulletins on Ebola response	Stijn Aelbers (saelbers@internews.org - global) - Jeremie Soupou (jsoupou@internews.org - in Goma)
	Ebola-related radio content for local radio stations (currently working with 30 stations across the region)	More information on reliable and verified content produced in conjunction with 30 local radio stations across North Kivu.	Program up and running; find content and information on Kona Ebola site and through Twitter ID: @EbolaKona	Stijn Aelbers (saelbers@internews.org - global) - Jeremie Soupou (jsoupou@internews.org - in Goma)
The New Humanitarian*	Field reporting and interviews with local actors and affected communities; analysis of the humanitarian response and the local perspective.	Up-to-date reporting from local perspective. Subscribe to our free daily/weekly newsletters here: https://www.thenewhumanitarian.org/subscribe	New reporting on this page: https://www.thenewhumanitarian.org/in-depth/inside-congo-ebola-outbreak-emergency	Philip Kleinfeld (leading reporting, based in Goma) philip@thenewhumanitarian.org Obi Anyadike (Africa Editor) obinna@thenewhumanitarian.org mia@translatorswithoutborders.org
Translators without Borders*	Local language support for community engagement and data collection activities	Mapping and analysis of local languages. Language guidance and training for community engagement activities. Language guidance and translation support for H2H Network members' data collection.	A free mobile web app with offline and audio functions, containing core terms for the Ebola response in French, Swahili and Nande - to be released in October. October: Beginning of participant-centered training sessions in Goma and Beni for health workers, community engagement staff, and media teams. Sign-up details coming soon. Language guidance tools for community engagement and data collection.
Evidence Aid	Research evidence relevant to treatment and prevention of Ebola. Primarily oriented toward local, national and international policy-makers involved in the response.	The collection (which is free to access) can be found at: https://www.evidenceaid.org/ebola/	Further updates to the collection.	bhtaylor@evidenceaid.org

*Funded through H2H Fund, which is supported by UK aid from the UK government