Background
This snapshot shows the projected status of key humanitarian supply pipelines at the national and regional levels for relief items that are regularly stockpiled in Afghanistan or that are essential for emergency response between March and May 2022. The list does not include all humanitarian relief items. The full implications of the recent political transitions on the country's basic services and financial systems will take time to manifest, but initial indications already reveal a severe deterioration of the humanitarian crisis.

Key Messages
Between March and May 2022, critical WASH, Nutrition, Education and Health supplies are at risk of pipeline break due to funding shortfalls, import and transport delays, market availability and liquidity challenges. These supplies are needed urgently ahead of Spring seasonal flooding and disease outbreak risks. Given local procurement issues for certain items and lengthy transport lead times, additional funding to support early procurement and delivery of core supplies is crucial. This will mitigate against border delays and market disruptions and allow for pre-positioning of relief items in locations with high concentration of needs.

HEALTH

Main challenge: There is a high chance of a pipeline break of RH kits and supplies for primary health care due to funding shortfalls. Additionally, there is risk that stocks in pipeline may be delayed due to customs and border delays. The Health Cluster requires US$11.8 million to meet stock requirements from March to May 2022.

WATER, SANITATION & HYGIENE

Main challenge:
Existing stocks of hygiene and water kits as well as chlorine tablets will run out mid-March, due to funding gaps, market availability and quality, and liquidity challenges faced by local suppliers. There is a funding gap of US$13.7 million for the procurement of supplies to meet the needs during period of March to May 2022.

NUTRITION

Main challenge: The key challenges for the Nutrition Cluster are delays in the transportation of supplies because of the lengthy customs, limited availability of vessels, COVID-19 pandemic and border clearance processes. There is a funding gap of US$31 million to ensure commodities are replenished ahead of anticipated gaps. The existing stocks of RUTF including supplies in the pipeline will cover the need through Q2 and a small portion of Q3 2022. However, to prepare the needs of Q3 and Q4, there is an urgent need to raise sales orders for procurement of RUTF.
