Idleb governorate is considered to be the last resort for all those forcibly displaced from the Syrian Regime’s controlled areas, in that it is the last governorate of which the vast majority is under the opposition’s control, along with some parts of the countrysides of Aleppo and Hama governorates. To avert a devastating war in the governorate between the regime and opposition, Turkey and Russia reached SOCHI agreement on 17 September 2018. The agreement requires setting up a 15-20 km demilitarized zone along the contact line between the Syrian regime troops and opposition forces. Turkey, which guarantees the commitment of the opposition forces to the agreement, deployed 12 observation posts in opposition-held areas. Likewise, Russian forces stepped up their deployment in the buffer zone within the territory under the control of the regime's forces, as the guarantor of the regime’s commitment to the implementation of the agreement. Nevertheless, the Regime and its allies continued shelling the governorate of Idleb and adjacent countrysides of Aleppo and Hama governorates.

By the end of March 2019, the Regime and its Russian ally have escalated the military operations on Idleb governorate declaring the de facto termination of the SOCHI agreement.

May 2019

- 9 May Northern Hama Countryside:
  The regime forces took control of Madiq Castle city and the towns of Kafr Nabutha, Jamasa Odayat - Alshareeah, Tweini, Karkat, and Bab Eltaqa. The Russian warplanes continued supporting the regime through intensifying the airstrikes on the contact line with the opposition.

- 15 May Northern Hama Countryside:
  The regime took control over Eastern Huweiz town.

June 2019

- 3 June Southern Idleb Countryside:
  The regime took control of Qasabiyeh town.

- 4 June Northern Hama Countryside:
  The regime took control of the towns of Qirata and Hmeirat.

- 27 June:
  The regime targeted the Turkish checkpoint in Shirmaghar town (known as the 11th observation post) located in the north west of Hama countryside with heavy artillery shells, which resulted in killing a Turkish soldier and injuring three others.

July 2019

- 29 July Northern Hama Countryside:
  The regime forces controlled Tal Milh town.
August 2019

2 August:
A ceasefire was declared between the regime and opposition; though the Russian and regime warplanes were absent from Idlib governorate, yet the reconnaissance aircrafts of the regime and the Russian forces were spotted in the sky all the time in the areas under the opposition’s control. However, the regime continued shelling the opposition held areas with heavy artillery shells and land-based missile launchers.

4 August:
The regime tried to infiltrate on the route of Kherbet ElNaqu town in the northern Hama countryside, where violent clashes broke out there; on its impact, the opposition forces managed to fight back the regime’s attempt. Yet the regime targeted the northern countryside of Hama with hundreds of artillery shells and land-based missile launchers.

5 August:
After less than 72 hours of declaring the ceasefire, the regime forces announced the resumption of their military operations in the governorate of Idlib and its adjacent countryside of Aleppo and Hama governorates. The Russian and regime warplanes shelled the governorate of Idlib and its adjacent countryside of Hama governorate with 179 airstrikes, along with hundreds of heavy artillery and land-based missile launchers. The aggression resulted in killing five civilians and injuring four others; moreover, the shelling targeted the civil defense teams and the first-aid system during their evacuation of the wounded and the search for missing persons under the rubble.

7 August Northern Hama Countryside:
The regime forces, with the support of Russian warplanes, took control of Zakat and Al Arbayeen towns.

8 August Northern Hama Countryside:
With the support of Russian warplanes, the regime forces seized Hasraya, Qadib El-Ban and Eljisat towns, as well as Sakhr town and its strategic hill.

9 August:
Russia accused the United Nations of providing false data on schools and hospitals shelled by the Syrian regime and its Russian ally in Idlib governorate. Michelle Bachelet, the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights, indicated last month that attacks against civilian targets seemed intentional.
11 August Southern Idleb Countryside:
The regime forces took control of Hbit and Skik towns.

13 August Southern Idleb Countryside:
With support from Russian warplanes, the regime forces took control over Kafr Ein, Ass Hill and Um Zaytuna towns.

14 August Southern Idleb Countryside:
The regime forces took control over Abdin and Madaya towns. Additionally, the opposition forces shot down a warplane that belongs to the regime during shelling the opposition held areas.

19 August Southern Idleb Countryside:
The regime forces, in support with the Russian warplanes, took control over the western northern neighborhoods of Khan Sheikhun city, few hours before the regime forces entered it, according to Military commanders, a Turkish column entered the Turkish Syrian borders heading towards Khan Sheikhun to establish a military observation post there, but the regime warplanes targeted the car of one of the Free Syrian Army commanders driving at the forefront of the column, which led to killing all those in the car. The Russian and regime warplanes then targeted the sides of the road in which the Turkish column was present, the thing which forced the Turkish column to stop at the south of Al Ma’ra city. The shelling which targeted the Turkish column resulted in the injury of 6 civilians who were close to the highway in which the Turkish column was. The Turkish column stopped in Maar Hattat town.

23 August in Southern Idleb Countryside:
The regime forces took full control over Khan Sheikhun city and burnt tens of houses while the regime soldiers stole all the houses before destroying them; according to local resources, the regime is working on destroying Al Rawda neighbourhood which witnessed a massacre due to the regime’s chemical shelling on the city on 4th April 2017. In northern Hama countryside, the regime forces took control over Kafar Zeita city and the towns of Latmanam Latmin, Sayad, Tal Fas, Maarkaba, Lahaya, Al Buwaydah, and Murak. The regime forces posted videos on the social media showing the ninth Turkish observation post, known as Mural point, with the regime forces spread around it.
During the period between 1 March until 24 August 2019, the Syrian regime, along with its Russian ally shelled Idleb governorate and adjacent countrysides of Aleppo and Hama governorates with hundreds of rockets and artillery shells, where 34 medical points have been shelled, including hospitals and dispensaries. Additionally, the regime and its Russian ally shelled 32 schools, 26 mosques, and 17 civil defense centers or civil defense teams during administering first aid, evacuation of the wounded and the search for missing persons under the rubble. They also shelled 14 crowded popular markets, 10 IDP camps, and 9 bakeries.

The fourth issue of the flash report “Field Development in Idleb, Northern Hama Countryside, Western and Southern Aleppo Countrysides during the period of 1 March till 14 May 2019” the most prominent shelling operations during the period between 1 March until 14 May 2019.
The IMU of the ACU works on a daily basis, through its field network of enumerators, on documenting the number of victims of the military operations in Syria, where the number of victims of the shelling launched by the Syrian regime and its Russian ally since the start of March 2019 until 24 August 2019 reached 1,166 civilians, with 262 children, 180 women being among the victims. The documentation shows that the number of victims in May and June 2019 has increased, where the number of victims who fell dead due to the shelling of the regime and Russian ally in May 2019 reached 308 civilians. Through documenting the shelling operations of the regime, it was found that the regime and its Russian ally concentrated their airstrikes in August on northern Hama countryside and southern Idleb countryside to empty the villages of their population forcing them to flee towards the north. The forced displacements led to emptying the southern areas, the thing which resulted in a decrease in the number of victims, particularly northern Hama countryside.
