Negros Island Region is the 18th and newest region of the Philippines, created on 29 May 2015. It comprises the urbanized city of Bacolod and the provinces of Negros Occidental and Negros Oriental, along with outlying islands and islets. The island is the fourth largest in the country with a total land area of 13,309.60 square kilometres.

Negros Island Region is the 18th and newest region of the Philippines, created on 29 May 2015. It comprises the urbanized city of Bacolod and the provinces of Negros Occidental and Negros Oriental, along with outlying islands and islets. The island is the fourth largest in the country with a total land area of 13,309.60 square kilometres.